SING SING

The Democrats of this town will hold their caucus evening. While there will be practically no opposimittee and delegations to the several conventions. The contest will be a triangular one between the Bryanites and the Nelson and Larkin wings of the old line Democracy. What has lent additional interthe strife is the fact that a superintendent of the old Croton Aqueduct for this section is to be the old Croton Aqueduct for this section is to be appointed soon, to take the place of Frederick G. Mead, the present Republican incumbent. Each of the three Democratic aspirants for this office is backed by one of the three factions of the party. Albert M. Emmett, a boss mason and builder, is supported by the silver men. Village Trustee Bernard C. Feeney has the Indorsement of ex-Senator Henry C. Nelson, while William Purcell, an officer at the prison, relies on Colonel Francis Larkin and his friends. For some reason or other it is believed that the faction winning in the caucus to-night will secure the next superintendent, and as a consequence the Democracy of the town in the last week has been fairly rent asunder.

For Receiver of Taxes Frederick Allen Smith was lamed and nominated by acclamation. To select a Town Auditor required three ballots. Edward B. Osborne was chosen. For Assessor Eugene Barton was nominated at the second ballot. Ossemus Lent was declared the nominee for Overseer of Highways. For Overseer of the Poor Charles Crandal was nominated by acclamation for the Croton District. Two ballots were necessary for the Peckskill district, and A. B. Hughes was named. For constables Milton Blinker was named unanimously for the Croton District, and the ballot for Feckskill constables resulted as follows: Alonzo Townsend, Mr. Janes Hickey, 35, William R. Grattan; Trustee, two years. B. Frank Decker, short term, John Sharpe; Collector, Andrew Decker, Treasurer, Charles H. Dwornizchak.

TARRYTOWN.

The Board of Trustees has decided to return the taxes collected from the Society of Mount Carmel on its property in South Broadway. The society claimed exemption from taxation on the ground that the land was used for religious purposes, and that the land was used for religious purposes, and paid the taxes under protest. It threatened to sue the village, and the Trustees refunded the money and ordered the property to be exempt from future taxation.

E. H. Birdsail recently purchased the old Mable property, adjoining the Vanderbilt Corporation Building in West Main-at. Mr. Birdsail engaged a civil engineer to survey his new property, and from his report it appears that Alderman. Vanderbilt has encrosched on his neighbor's land. Mr. Birdsail says that the new Vanderbilt Building, which has only been completed a short time, projects on his property, in the rear, as much as two feet.

with particular reference to his alleged differences with ex-Senator Hill. After a brief pause Mr. Croker said: "I am not fighting anybody and I have not uttered or inspired any attack on any person in otherwise. All I have got to say is that the man who tries to separate the Democratic party in the city and State will be politically dead for all time

When asked if he still considered Senator Murphy as the leader of the Democracy in the State, as he did last fall. Mr. Croker replied: "I certainly do.

When asked whether or not ex-Senator Hill shared that belief, Mr. Croker dipiomatically repiled: "If he doesn't I have no comment to make I expect the next Democratic convention to be harmonious. It certainly will be so if the Tam-

One of Mr. Croker's friends, who was present when this interview was given, prepared a table, which showed with more or less accuracy that Hill now controls only about two-fifths of the delegates to the next convention, the others being for Mr. Croker. This prognestication, it was said by a man well versed in politics up the State, was absolutely erroneous. The same man said afterward that he had information of the most direct kind that Mr. Croker's agents throughout the State were daily seeking to prosclytize in territory where Mr. Hill's strength was believed to be, and that every possible effort was being made to shatter the harmony of which Mr. Croker so loudly beasts.

It was said at the Democratic Club last night that Senator Murphy had had several conferences with Mr. Croker, and that, as a result, Mr. Murphy would become a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor, so that he and his new ally, Tammany Hall, could the better control the party. Mr. Murphy's indestedness in a political way to Mr. Hill, it was said, would not be permitted to stand in his own way as a seeker after any office that would increase his power.

TO AMEND THE REVISED STATUTES.

PROVIDING FOR AMERICAN REGISTRY OF VESSELS REPAIRED IN THIS COUNTRY.

Washington, March 13 (Special).—Representative Payne, of New-York, introduced a bill in the House yesterday of importance to commercial and navigating interests in this country. A similar bill has Mr. Payne's measure provides that Section 4.136 of the Revised Statutes of the United States shall be amended as follows:

amended as follows:

"The Secretary of the Treasury may issue a register for any vessel, built in a foreign country, whenever such vessel shall be wrecked in the United States, and shall be purchased and repaired by a citizen of the United States, if it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the Secretary that the repairs put upon such vessel were made in the United States, and are equal to three-fourths of the appraised value of the vessel when so repaired:

Provided. That any vessel advitted to American registry, pursuant to this section, which shall engage in the coasting trade or fisheries of the United States shall be subject to forfeiture.

The changes in the law to be effected by the bill are these:
Pirst-A provision that the repairs shall be made

FIRE-A provision that the repairs shall be made in this country; and,
Second—A proviso that vessels admitted to American registry, pursuant to the section quoted, which shall engage in the coasting trade of or fisherics of the United States shall be subject to forfeiture.

DIED SOON AFTER HER HUSBAND.

MARCELLUS ELDREDGE AND HIS WIFE, OF PORTSMOUTH, N. H., DEAD IN BOSTON.

Boston, March 13.-Marcellus Eldredge, a former Mayor of Portsmouth, N. H., died at the Hotel Toursine last night afer a two weeks' illness. Six hours later his wife, who had been suffering from an incurable disease for four months, also passed away. Mr. Eldredge's death was probably due to away, Mr. Lodredge's death was probably due to anxiety over his wife's condition, while, on the other hand, her death was undoubtedly hastened by grief. Mr. Eldredge was elected State Benator from the Portsmouth district in 1876 and Mayor in 1895. A few years ago he presented to the city a public library and a piece of land for a soldlers' monument.

RICHMOND BOROUGH HAPPENINGS.

The troubles which have beset the rector of St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church, Tottenville, the Rev. Frederic Welham, have resulted in his being removed from the parish by Bishop Potter, who has informed Mr. Welham that on April 1 he must give way to a new rector, who will be appointed. Mr. Welham last autumn removed three teachers from the Sunday-school. He alleged that they had gossipped about him. The removals caused much indignation. Among the persons deposed as teachers was Mrs. Charles Higbee. Mrs. Higbee took the case to Bishop Fotter. She was prepared to prefer charges against the rector, but the Bishop agreed to remove him, and the case was allowed to rest there.

PROBABLY LOST AT SEA.

A SCHOONER COMES ASHORE, BUT NOTHING HAS REEN HEART OF HUR CREW.

Norfolk, Va., March 13 (Special) -A few days ago the liferavers at Cape Hatteras discovered a derellet vessel, bottom upward, tossing about far out at sea, and so reported. It was impossible to learn her name then. The same hulk washed in the breakers at Little Kinnakeet at sunset to-night, but in a righted position. With the aid of glasses her name was made out as the Jennie R. Tominnson, a 100-ton vessel, halling from Wilming-ton, Del. The sea was so rough that the life-savers made no attempt to board her, and she will probably pound to pieces before morning. No signs of life were visible aboard, and the vessel was in smantled condition.

nothing has been heard of a shipwrecked crewing been landed at any poor.

As nothing has been heard of a shipwrecked crew having been landed at any port it is thought they were all drowned. No wreckage of the Tomilinson has yet come ashore. She left New-York about tendays ago, in company with the schooners Wright and Filson, for Hatteres to trawif or fish. The latter odde the storm and arrived safe in port, but nothing was heard of the former until her name was made out to-night. She was probably caught in the storm that swept up the coast a few days ago, and was rendered helpless by the waves that must have swept over her.

PLATINUM RIVETS RECOVERED.

A BOX CONTAINING $2.000 WORTH STOLEN AND SOLD TO A JUNKMAN FOR $1.50.

A small wooden box containing platinum wire rivers, worth about $2,000, was brought to this city from Newark on March 3 by an employe of Barker & Co., platinum refluers, of Newark. The firm has an office at No. 121 Liberty-st. The employe left the box in a car on the clevated railroad at City Hall station, and, thinking of it when he reached the staircase, he rushed back to the car, but found that the box was gone. The loss was reported to the New-York police, and an advertisement was published, offering a reward for its rement was published, offering a reward for its return.

Last week the police learned that a certain junk dealer had came into possession of a quantity of rivets. About the same time a young man walked into the office of the firm in Liberty-st, and offered a handful of the rivets for sale. They were recognized and the young man was told that the firm would pay at the rate of $12.55 an ounce for them. Then the young man said his father, a junk dealer, had a box of the rivets which he would sell. The young man was followed to his father's junkshop in Ani-st, and the police were informed. Detectives visited the place and the box of rivets was recovered. It had been bought from the thief for Neither the thief nor the junkman knew the value of the rivets.

trade outside the State, which is put up almost entirely on the Penobscot and Kennebec rivers, is estimated at about $15,000 tons. Of this amount $60,000 tons come from the Kennebec and 150,000 tons from the Penobscot. The harvest on the Penobscot according to the Penobscot and while not a great quantity was housed, the ice is of line quality.

FLINT'S FINE FURNITURE THE SUBURBAN HALL. City fortunates who anchor each night in some suburban harbor of refuge, can give beauty and welcome to their entrance halls, there being room and light to fling odd pieces about with a full hand. Our hall furniture is just what is needed a few of the marked down pleces are still here.

Most of the designs show a peculiar picturesqueness which suits the suburban entrance. Chairs,—all sorts of odd shapes—tall, narrow backs, carved in the vigorous old Flemish way: "half-round" backs, filled in with slim balus-ters (particularly comfortable); criss-cross legs —there is no end to their quaintness. Settles and tables have the same piquancy. Every piece is perfect in workmanship, as you
